Dear Dennis,

Your letter of the 12th reached here the 15th and that is the day our lives, already severely limited, underwent a major change: My wife fell and fractured a hip. The surgey went well, the prospects for a youngster of 86 are as good as they can be, but it means I can't undertake any side projects, much as I used to enjoy doing them for kids. I do have something in mind for you and if I can get the next person who uses the xerox to copy they they are the basis for the beginning of NEVER AGAIN! If you need any more and can't get them the national ~~publisher~~ distributor is Publishers West. They use subdistributors in various parts of the country,

If any of you students or their parents are up this way, they can copy anything they want.

Thanks and best,

Harold
